Popular actors Iqbal Khan (above) and Shraddha Arya (right), recently shot in the Capital for their TV show. Interestingly, Iqbal, who is extremely active on Twitter, invited his fans for a group hug at the Red Fort. Iqbal was surprised to see hundreds of his fans just waiting to catch a glimpse of him, an autograph or to click a selfie.

Iqbal says, "Firstly I want to thank God for giving me such amazing fans who love me for all that I do. It is always nice to meet fans, and since I was shooting in Delhi I knew that I had to make full use of this opportunity. It is always nice to connect to your fans, get their feedback and response, and I can just thank them for all their love and blessings."
