Chaya Unnikrishnan

Last few years have seen many TV actors graduate to being movie stars. Presenting the dudes in TV shows who are ripe to be picked up by film producers. They can act, they are already popular, they possess toned bodies, ripped muscles, intense eyes and a charming smile... Aur kya chahiye? Just the signing amount and contract for a big budget movie.

Iqbal Khan

He was missing from the small-screen for over a year, but that hardly stopped Iqbal Khan from being in the news. He is one actor who has grabbed headlines more for the shows he's turned down than the ones he did. The tall and handsome actor with deep baritone broke into the TV scene as a rockstar in Kaisa Ye Pyaar Hai and since then has been a hot favourite among the fairer sex. Known to be choosy about his work, the light-eyed actor is back with Tumhari Paakhi, a tumultuous love story. He made a dashing entry rappelling down a mountain that showed off his muscles.
