Iqbal Khan developed a huge fan following after he signed up for the Zee TV show, Sanjog Se Bani Sangini. The show premiered on Zee TV on August 2010 and Iqbal Khan played the role of Rudra.

Iqbal Khan in Sangini – An Overview

Sanjog Se Bani Sangini was a story about two young people who are destined to be together. The lead characters are Rudra and Gowri (Binny Sharma). Rudra and Gowri literally meet each other by accident – when he rams his car into her. From then onwards, they keep crossing each other's path.

Finally, love strikes and they decide to get married. But married life is not all smooth going for this passionate and emotional couple. The serial depicts the twists and turns in the lives of the two lead characters and the impact of these incidents on their marriage.

Iqbal Khan in Sangini – His Performance

Iqbal Khan was a tremendous success as Rudra. He made an impact when he perfectly portrayed the drunk and sullen character of Rudra in the early stages of the story. As Rudra's character transforms for the better, Iqbal Khan kept upping the ante with his performance.

Talking about his character during an interview, Iqbal Khan said that the role was quite challenging as Rudra has always been neglected by his family. Being ditched in love had also affected Rudra's character. He had taken up the role after an absence of two years from television. He said that he took up the role because, "The role excites me because it's like nothing that I have attempted so far. I loved the character when I heard the script and I hope the audience loves him."
